PRESIDENT'S PEN

August was a month of great activity in Cuballing and a wonderful showcase of our community and the fabulous place we call home.

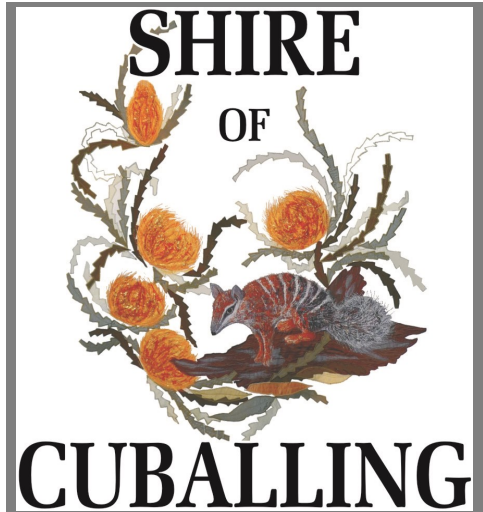

The Cuballing Winter Ball was a great success, with over 140 people putting on their glad rags and dancing the night away to the band, Trip, and raising money for (and awareness of) the Wheatbelt Suicide Prevention Project. The work done to improve the acoustics and heating/cooling in the Cuballing Agricultural Hall has revitalised our beautiful old building and made it a great event venue. The hall will stage the Sea Shanty Singing workshop and the Anchormen Live Performance on the 9th September and the Fanny Lumsden live concert on the 21st October. It is fantastic to see the hall being used for these events.

The Cuballing Golf Club has also been the venue for some major events last month with their Open Day on the 18/19 August, followed shortly by the LGIS Golf tournament. Both events attracted keen golfers from all over who enjoyed the spring conditions and the well-kept course. Hats off to the Golf Club for running both these events so well.

Last weekend saw hundreds of people enjoy the Popanyinning Bonfire night with many camping on the oval for a couple of days. The band played late into the night and the bonfire provided coals for bacon the next morning. The fact that our small community can run these events and that they are so well supported is a credit to our fabulous volunteers and the shire will continue to support them.

Local Government Elections are around the corner. If you are thinking of standing for council, please contact the returning officer Sarah 0483 102 643 for election packs. Any one of our councillors, including me, would be happy to chat with you about what being a councillor entails. Please give us a ring.

SHIRE OF CUBALLING STRATEGIC PLAN

Our Heart, Our Home owes a debt of thanks to the community members who participated in its creation. The community engagement took place over February and March 2023, following a postcards campaign and a workshop with the Community Builders group. The Shire Council thanks all those who submitted postcards, took the survey, attended workshops and contributed as Community Builders.

Without you, this would have been a different plan.

The Plan has a ten year horizon, but will be updated every two years to ensure that implementation stays on track and the priorities stay relevant.

The Corporate Business Plan will detail the first four years of delivering Our Heart, Our Home. Progress will be reported regularly to the community.

COUNCIL SHORTS

Shire Budget

Every year Shire staff and Councillors put in many hours of work and effort into developing the Shire's annual budget. This has included

- Reviewing the 10 year Road Maintenance Plan
- Updating the 10 year Plant Replacement Program;
- Considering the Building Maintenance Plan

This year's budget has again been dominated by the Wheatbelt Secondary Freight Network Program which will deliver $2.4 million of grant funding this year alone. When combined with $800,000 of other roads funding it is not surprising that roads attract a lot of our attention.

Building roads requires the right gear, which last year included a new front end loader and a new grader. This year's plant program is far more modest but does include some important equipment to make road works safer. This includes a new set of mobile traffic lights and a towed road sweeper.

Upgrade works will continue on the CWA Hall and Agricultural Hall. Both of these buildings will now be far more usable for community and private functions. We are also on the home stretch for the independent living units – they will be finished any day now.

Unfortunately, rates will have to rise – this year by 8%. We understand that this is one of the lowest rates rises in the region. You can beat the rise by paying your rates before 15 September 2023 and enjoy an 8% discount. It will also put you in the running for the prize draw.

Heavy Vehicle Applications

Main Roads WA approves permits for heavy vehicles. Applications for Restricted Access Vehicles to use local Shire roads are referred to the Shire for input. Council considered 3 applications and supported one. The other 2 seemed to be seeking to use local roads as through routes and were not supported by Council. Where safe with conditions, the Shire will generally support operators getting from their property to the nearest RAV route.

South West Native Title Settlement

The South West Native Title Settlement (Settlement) is a native title agreement reached between the State Government and the six Noongar Agreement Groups. The Settlement recognises the Agreement Groups as the Traditional Owners of the south west of Western Australia, while resolving native title in exchange for a negotiated package of benefits. This includes the delivery of a 320,000 hectare of land, some reserve, some freehold.

The Department of Planning Lands and Heritage is examining land held by the State that might be suitable as part of the land settlement. Whenever a parcel of land is identified the Department seeks the input of the affected Shire. The Shire of Cuballing responded to 3 such requests at the August Council Meeting.

Local Government Election

At a Special Meeting held on 1 August 2023 Council resolved to conduct the 2023 election as a postal election run by the WA Electoral Commission (WAEC). The WAEC has appointed Sarah Hawksley as Returning Officer. Nominations to stand for Council open on 31 August and close on 7 September 2023.

LGIS GOLF CHALLENGE WRAP UP

On August 24th & 25th 19 Shires from around WA descended upon Cuballing to compete in the 2023 LGIS Golf Challenge. This event was hosted by the Shire of Cuballing at the Cuballing Golf course and was only possible because of a dedicated bunch of Shire employees, councillors and previous CEO's who have been battling it out for 20 years to win this title. The winning golf team was headed by Anthony Mort, Cr Rob Harris, Scott Ballantyne and Daniel Christensen. It first started back when Peter Naylor was CEO. Anthony Mort or as most know him as "Morty", has been the consistent driving member and Shire employee making sure the Shire of Cuballing enters a team each year. It has been a long 20 years but what an honour for the Shire of Cuballing and Morty to be able to finally host the event here on his hometown course where he has been the golf club's President for past 12 years, a member for 21 years and newly elected life member.

The weather was delightful, the food is on point and the beverages were flowing over those two days. We had some awesome prizes thanks to our generous sponsors, LGIS, LG Corporate Solutions, Avon Waste, Bitutek, Western Stabilisers, Rod Munns Engineering, Brooks Hire, Corsigns, Dews Excavations, Wallis Computer Solutions, and Integrated ICT, some whom attended the tournament.

This event took 6 months' worth of planning behind the scenes and the week prior to setting up. The LGIS Golf Tournament bought thousands of dollars into our community supporting many businesses and showcasing our wonderful town. This event would definitely not have gone ahead so smoothly without the dedication of volunteers, you know who you are, thanks.

A little history on the Cuballing Golf Course - The idea for the Cuballing Golf Club was born when two residents at the time, Stan Whitford (ex-Councillor) and Brian Dowsett, were having a couple of beers in the famous office the 'Cuballing Pub' and discussed the possibility of forming a golf club, I wonder what other plans may be hatched at the Cuballing Tavern over the next 2 days! On the 26 February 1958, the club was founded and the size, clearing, bulldozing and cost of laying the course were planned.

The Cuballing Roads Board agreed to a long-term lease of the reserve, part of which had been used as the Cuballing racecourse, then planning and construction began. The Road Board lent their trucks to shift 100 tons of metal dust for the greens. On Saturday, 3 May 1958 the Ladies' Committee ran a very successful ball and a week later, on Sunday, 11 May, the club held its first day of play. A year later the first nine holes had been completed and the club was ready to go. Today the course has 18 holes the 19th being the bar. It also has a newly erected patio and a very successful committee.

POPANYINNING BONFIRE NIGHT WRAP UP

New Facilities Launched

After years of planning and fund raising, the Popanyinning Progress Association (PPA) was thrilled to see the new shelter in use at the Popo Oval. The very popular and versatile band The Krits returned this year to entertain the crowd at the annual Bonfire Night. Chrissy, the lead singer, was most impressed with the facility we now have for them to use. The shelter provides a great base for other all weather events and activities at the Popo Oval.

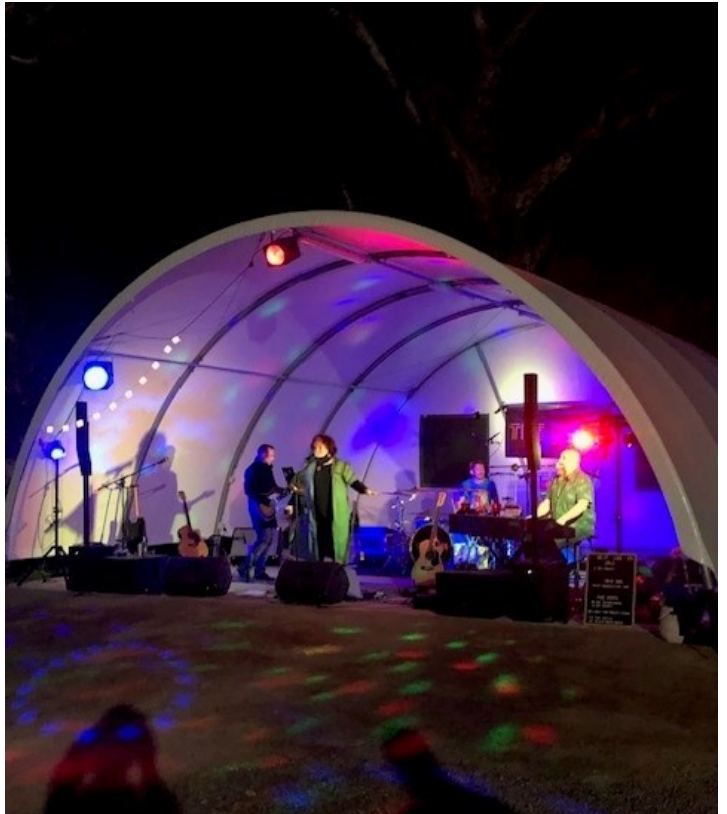

Perfect weather for the evening saw a large crowd of locals and visitors, estimated at 350, attending the event. Approximately half of these camped on the oval overnight in caravans, camper trailers, tents and numerous swags laid out next to cars. They were entertained by Alex Watts as a support act, before the Krits came on at 8pm thru to midnight.

The Bonfire was lit at 5.30pm by the Popo Volunteer Fire Brigade, who monitored the event throughout the evening. (thankfully they resisted the urge to put the fire out) The hungry hoard ate their way through 25kgs of smoked roast beef, 200 sausages, and a small mountain of bread rolls, prepared and cooked by the PPA dedicated PPA committee.

The crowd enjoyed the community family event, where small children were able to play safely in the floodlit tennis courts, whilst the adults relaxed in the warmth of the large bonfire, or danced to the music of The Krits.

Acknowledgment must be made of the support from the Cuballing Shire which provided financial assistance, and staff who built the bonfire. A special thanks also to Richard Hotz Plumbing for his generous support again this year to PPA.

If you didn't get there this, mark your diary for 2023.

PHCC Working Together
Peel-Harvey Catchment Council

Edition 79
September 2023

NRM is the management of natural resources such as land, water, soils, plants and animals. It brings together land use planning, water management, biodiversity conservation and sustainability of industries such as agriculture, mining, tourism, fisheries and forestry.

Spreading Fungus (In a Good Way)

Most people know of a local patch of bush with cathedrals of bridal creeper covering the vegetation and smothering native species. You may also be aware of biological control agents 'rust fungus' and 'leaf hopper' which have been released at various locations in the past to control bridal creeper (BC) populations (There was also a leaf beetle which is not as widespread and less well-known).

Information in this article about the rust fungus is taken from 'Decline of the invasive plant Asparagus asparagoides within the first seven years after release of biological control agents in Australia', Morin L et al (2022).

Erupting pustule stage of the rust fungus

The original program to produce and spread the bio-control agents occurred between 1999 and 2004 and we are now at the stage where there are 'natural' populations of both the fungus and the leaf hopper in the landscape, with varying degrees of impact on BC infestations. There are several methods where private landholders, community groups and organisations can collect and spread the rust fungus onto healthy stands of BC. The most common method you will come across is making 'spore water' with infected foliage and spraying it in the desired locations. According to CSIRO, the 'rubbing' method is easier and more effective, and the PHCC Hotham-Williams team have tried this technique in a section of the Hotham River where it intersects the Codjatotine-Mooterdine Road.

This involved collecting rust-infected foliage which was at the 'erupting pustule' stage and rubbing it thoroughly on a two square metre area of healthy BC, ensuring contact with the underside of the leaves. The patch was then lightly sprayed with water and covered with plastic for 24 hours to ensure a humid environment, which is required for spore germination and penetration of plant tissue.

Collecting infected foliage

Covering the BC after rubbing with infected foliage

We have a number of questions to find out answers to! Will rust fungus release sites benefit from multiple years and locations of manual rust-spreading? Once rust has infected a site, how likely is it to increase naturally over time? Why does rust appear to stay at very low levels at some sites? Can herbicide be used in conjunction with the rust fungus once the BC has reduced in density within a site?

The reason for these questions and efforts to have current/local rust fungus release sites, is that we would like to be able to use it as a suppression tool where budget does not allow for more intense management, such as herbicide application. BC is such a widespread and invasive weed, and time has shown that it is now a permanent part of the landscape. Practical, cost effective and efficient methods of controlling (or at the very least suppressing) bridal creeper, are the key to co-existing with it on a local scale.

This project is funded through partnerships with both South32 Worsley Alumina and Newmont Australia (Boddington).

Numbat Neighbourhood Project Wraps Up

The Numbat Neighbourhood Project wrapped up at the end June 2023 and we are pleased to say that the numbat numbers within Dryandra Woodland have improved since the project started in 2018. DBCA's camera monitoring data and the Numbat Task Force and Dr Tony Friend's drive survey data supports this increase in the trajectory of the numbat population as does the increase in sightings of numbats by members of the community.

Through Numbat Neighbourhood Community Environment Grants 67 km's of fencing has been installed by farmers to help protect 845 ha of on farm habitat and 33 ha of revegetation. Large scale feral animal control around Dryandra saw 374 feral cats, over 1500 foxes and more than 1200 feral pigs culled as well as the RHDV1 K5 rabbit virus released 4 times to help control the rabbit populations. 264 ha of bushland was assessed for dieback and 117 ha of bridal creeper and spiny rush controlled. 8 red-tail phascogale nest boxes were installed and 2 hollow logs were placed into a newly created wildlife corridor to provide habitat for numbats. Over 900 community members attended Numbat Neighbourhood events and training and 6 landholders are now registered for Land for Wildlife after having their properties assessed.

Through the Project PHCC has become a member of the Numbat Recovery Team and has been able to support the Perth Zoo's numbat breed for release program with 18 numbats released into Dryandra during the project. We have been able to value add to DBCA's on reserve activities including feral free enclosure maintenance, new monitoring regimes on satellite blocks and habitat and fauna surveys.

We have worked closely with the Wilman Community throughout the project and would like to thank them for their guidance and involvement. Thank you to all the landholders, community members and stakeholders who have made this project a success and we look forward to working with you again in the future once we find out about our future funding. In the meantime, we are continuing to support feral animal control activities through already established agreements. Please get in touch with us if you have any future project ideas, we'd love to hear from you.

The Numbat Neighbourhood Project was funded through the Australian Government's National Landcare Program.

AT THE CUBALLING AGRICULTURAL HALL
SATURDAY 9TH SEPTEMBER

6:30PM - 8:30PM

Come along to the Cuballing Agricultural Hall for a night of sea songs and shanties. What's a sea shanty you ask? It's a song with alternating solo and chorus, of a kind originally sung by sailors while performing physical labour together.

The Anchormen are one of Western Australia's finest sea shanty bands. Let them take you on a rollicking journey of the high seas as they sing about all the good things in a sailor's life: whiskey, women and whales. All lyrics are projected on the screen so you can sing along!

Doors open at 6:00pm singing starts at 6:30pm. Sea you there!

Look out Cuballing, it's confirmed that Fanny Lumsden is coming to town!!!

Born and bred on a farm in western NSW, 600km from the nearest City, Fanny Lumsden grew up riding horses, helping out on the farm and living a seemingly idyllic Aussie Country upbringing with her family. Music was a big part of the Lumsden household with everyone playing instruments and singing and there was never any doubt that Fanny was a born show pony. Having completed her AMEB grades on Piano, and studied Music at High school Fanny went away for a while to study a Bachelor of Rural Science at UNE before making the move to Sydney where she started playing around the local scene, going to Songwriter nights. It was from there she met her band members The Thrillseekers and from there where the real Fanny Lumsden story begins. Fanny and her band will be performing at the Cuballing Ag Hall on October the 21st 2023. Stay tuned for more details.
